

The duty of a Congress person

What is the duty of a congress person?

The view of the progressive / liberal citizen is that the duty of their congress person is to bring home the bacon, to take something from the rest of the citizenry and give it to them. The liberal / progressive citizen feels that they are owed something from their fellow citizens that they have not earned. The "bring home the bacon" approach is really a socialist approach that kills the work incentive of those receiving welfare payments (Rename to Fellow Citizen Aid or FCA). Thus the incentive of the freeloader or leech is: "Why work when the fruits of others labor will be given to me". It also kills the work incentive of the productive because "Why work hard when all my labor goes to provide for someone who will not work."

The view of the conservative Tea-publican is that the duty of their congress person is to make laws and regulations such that all persons are treated equally under the law. This approach provides incentive for all to work because work results in the fruits of an individual's labor. It is even Biblical since Jesus Apostles said: 2 Thessalonians 3:10 “..for even when we were with you, we gave you this rule: "If a man will not work, he shall not eat." A majority of our laws already insure that all should be given equal opportunity for an education, equal opportunity in application for work, rental or ownership of real estate, access to any public establishment, and etc.

One of the problems associated with federal government grants is a distortion of reality that in reality is a lie to the citizenry. For example, local governments and citizenry think federal grants are a great because they are free money for which we do not have to pay. The lie is that every citizen has to pay because the federal funds have been extracted from citizens and local companies as taxes. The real scandal is that the tax moneys are extracted from the local economy, sent to Washington where a large fraction is expended on agencies to manage the funds, and then a portion of the funds are returned to citizens and communities as federal grants along with requirements on how to spend the money extracted from the citizens. In addition federal funds come with political advantages for congress persons and public infrastructure and edifices named for the local congress person. What a scam, citizens are paying for the grants that result in buildings and institutes names after the congress person who helped extract funds and fund agencies that manage the grants. In reality, if the community needed the buildings and institutes, the community would benefit by voting their own taxes and building their own edifices and building the infrastructure the community needs..

Therefore, it is the burden on Tea-publicans to insure that congress persons make laws that treat every citizen equally under the law and provide equal opportunity in education and the pursuit of happiness. Tea-publicans commit to reassigning present welfare funds into equal opportunity in education and work training as well as providing a basic, local infrastructure jobs through Americorps.
